

I do not want any organization calling me unsolicited. We should have the right just because we have in the past requested information from a company or a subsidiary doesn't give them the right to invade my home at their whim.